BY HARVEY BREUSCHER
MADISON (AP) — Alabama's Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace has carried his states' rights campaign into the presidential arena, entering Wisconsin's preferential primary April 7.

With the prediction, "I'll probably get more votes than a lot of people think," Wallace became the third figure in an election that had shaped up as a test between Democratic and Republican favorite son candidates.

Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds had hoped to run unopposed as a favorite son heading a national convention delegate slate pledged to President Lyndon B. Johnson. On the Republican side, Rep. John W. Byrnes is unchallenged as he leads an uncommitted delegate list.

'Old Soldier' On His Way To Recovery

Blockage Said Due To Gallstones, Not Cancer as Expected

BY FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — General Douglas MacArthur — minus his gall bladder and a crop of dangerous gallstones — headed today down the road to recovery. And he could count his blessings.

The old soldier apparently fooled the top-flight surgeons who operated on him for three hours Friday at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Li Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, where we can no longer evade the Army's surgeon general, or avoid this issue," declared a reporter later that the Democratic leader Mike Mansfield as he announced he was bringing the controversial issue of his hilt system by gall-

Against the general — and in favor of a finding of malignancy — were his 84 years and a sharp loss of weight during the past few months while concurrently exhibiting a jaundiced skin.

But, while gallstones — ranging in size "from peas to big beans" in the words of Heaton — were found packed in MacArthur's gall bladder and many others were found plugging a "key bile duct, that was the most critical finding."

"No evidences of malignancy were found" either in those organs or in other parts of the abdomen where the surgeons probed long and carefully.

355,000 Are Expected at Polls Tuesday

Judicial Primary Is Only Race on State-Wide Basis

MILWAUKEE (AP) — An estimated 355,000 voters will go to the polls Tuesday in state, county and local primaries to select candidates for the spring elections on April 7.

There is only one statewide race, the judicial primary to trim the number of candidates for the State Supreme Court from three to two.

The voter turnout was estimated by Leo Fahey, state supervisor of elections, who said he thought the local elections would "pull out" that number.

The candidates in the Supreme Court primary are Justice Horace Willkie, 47, an appointee to the court who is seeking his first full 10-year term; Harry E. Larsen of Superior and Howard Boyle Jr., of Beaver Dam.

Willkie was a prominent Dane County Democrat prior to his appointment in 1962 by former Gov. Gaylord Nelson, who is a United States senator. Willkie was a state senator at the time of his appointment.

Larsen gained prominence last year when he finished second to Bruce Beilfuss in the Supreme Court primary but was defeated by the widely known Beilfuss in the final election.

Ruby Trial Passes Into Fourth Week; Unique in History

BY RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's murder trial, past its third week today, has gone into the records as unique in legal history, inside and outside the courtroom.

It began as a strange case. On Nov. 22, President John F. Kennedy was shot in Dallas. Lee Harvey Oswald was charged with murdering him. If Oswald had done it, what was his motive? Was there a conspiracy? And did it extend beyond the United States?

The answers may never be known.

For two days later, Jack Ruby, 52, girlie-show operator — whom the defense calls "a character around town" — burst through a crowd of police officers, jammed a pistol into Oswald's side and shot him down.

Motive? His defense lawyers claim he had none. They say he was in an epileptic "rage state" induced by the shock of the president's death and didn't even know he had killed Oswald.

Police Sgt. P. T. Dean, however, says Ruby told him he had begun thinking about killing Oswald on the Friday night of Kennedy's death, more than 36 hours before the fatal shooting.

The state completed its case against Ruby Friday. The first defense witnesses were character witnesses who threw little or no light on the circumstances of Oswald's death.

The trial's three weeks brought these unusual events:

Three Weeks

1. A jail break Friday. An escapee with a fake gun, terrorizing spectators and court employees. Karen (Little Lynn) Bennett, 19, pregnant, a stripper, covering in a stair well and crying, "Oh, my God; he's after me." Joy Belli, wife of chief defense counsel Melvin Belli, trying to comfort her. Few persons inside the courtroom knew of the incident. The court proceedings were not disrupted.

2. Probably for the first time in any courtroom, the defendant and the jury saw a film of the actual shooting. The film was taken from a live telecast of the scene. Ruby showed little emotion as he watched.

3. Earlier Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown was absent because of illness. Another judge replaced him. Brown returned the next day, a Texas precedent, legal authorities believe. Belli argued that this was grounds for a mistrial.

4. A total of 162 persons were examined as prospective jurors before the 8 men and 4 women hearing the case were accepted. In Texas, a 13th juror is not selected as an alternate. So if one of the 12 becomes incapacitated.

Body of Greek King to Lie in State at Athens

BY GERALD MILLER

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — In a hearse with drawn black curtains, the body of King Paul was brought to Athens today to lie in state. Behind it rode his popular, 23-year-old son, now King Constantine, whose ascension to the throne in time of crisis tempered the grief of the nation.

Paul's body was taken from suburban Tatol Palace to the Royal Palace in the center of this capital. It was placed in the main ceremonial hall, where three hours after Paul's death Friday night Constantine took his oath to defend the Greek nation and the orthodox faith. It will remain there until Monday when it will be moved for public viewing at the Metropolitan, the Greek Orthodox cathedral.

Hundreds of Greeks lined the road from Tatol Palace to see the motorcade bearing the body.

With Constantine was his mother, Queen Frederika. Constantine's fiancée, Princess Anne Marie of Denmark, and his sister, Crown Princess Irene, rode behind them.

The Greek public appeared to have confidence in Constantine, now the world's youngest reigning monarch, in an hour of national crisis over the dispute between the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

Royal Wedding Set for May 17

THE HAGUE (AP) — Princess Irene of the Netherlands and Don Carlos de Bourbon Parma will be married sometime between Whitsuntide, May 17, and the first part of July, the government information service says.

The service said site of the ceremony hasn't been selected, but it is expected to be a Roman Catholic church. Irene abandoned the Dutch Reformed Church and was converted to Roman Catholicism. She gave up her rights of succession to the Dutch throne. Holland's royal family has been traditionally Protestant.

Three Still at Large

Spectacular Break Made by Seven Men from Dallas Jail

BY TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP) — Seven prisoners staged a spectacular break from the Dallas County Jail Friday and terrorized a former strip-tease dancer who was about to testify in the Jack Ruby murder trial.

"Oh, my God, he's after me," cried 19-year-old Karen Lynn (Little Lynn) Bennett, as she saw an escapee brandishing what looked like a pistol.

Little Lynn, who worked for Ruby in his Carousell Club, is pregnant and several days overdue for birth.

Four Recaptured

Four men were recaptured shortly after the break about 3:30 p.m. The other three still were at large today.

The escape wrought shouting, confusion in the hallway outside the courtroom where Ruby was on trial, but the session was not interrupted. Few inside were aware of the melee.

"Little Lynn" was being escorted to the women's room by Mrs. Melvin Belli, wife of the head defense lawyer, and Mrs. Rosemary Allen, a sheriff's deputy, when she saw an escapee with a pistol stuck in the back of a hostage, Mrs. Ruth Thornton.

Mrs. Allen shouted for help and then she and Mrs. Belli took "Little Lynn" into the protection of a stairwell, behind a steel door.

Regained Composure

Lynn regained her composure after the excitement subsided, and was calm when she took the stand as a witness for the defense.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the escape began when seven prisoners pushed their way into an elevator as it stopped on the sixth floor near a table where the weekly soap ration was being distributed to prisoners and demanded to be taken to the second floor.

There they took the keys from the jailer operating the elevator and poured into the hallway that runs from 40 or 50 feet to the door of Judge Joe B. Brown's court, where Ruby is being tried for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Two jailbreakers ran into Probate Court. One — Johnny R. Jenkins, 31 — was captured by Burnell Hall and H. H. McKaye, administrative assistants to the probate judge.

Take Gun

The other man — who wielded a realistic pistol fashioned from soap, cardboard and a pencil and painted black with shoe polish — went into Probate Court. He shoved a pistol in the back of Mrs. Thornton, about 60, widow of a former district judge, and demanded: "Show me the way to get out of this place."

Mrs. Thornton said he told her he would not harm her if she showed him the way. "I said, 'Let's go,'" she related.

As the escapee and Mrs. Thornton moved toward Judge Brown's court and a stairway leading to the sidewalk, she told newsmen, deputies and spectators to "please step back."

Escapee Overpowered Outside, Deputy Sheriff Charles Player took the fake gun from the prisoner. Other deputies then overpowered him. The prisoner, C. David Gregory, 20, was held on armed robbery charges.

Apprehended shortly after the break in different parts of Dallas were Hersell Crocker, 26, sentenced to life in prison for two robberies, and Tommy Brown, 36, Dallas, sentenced to life for armed robbery. All four are from Dallas.

At large were Randolph R. Hudnall, 21, of West Palm Beach, Fla., being held for military authorities; Billy Ray Brock, 36, Dallas, sentenced to life for robbery; and Leonis now scheduled to be murdered F. Driggers, 29, Dallas, in jail for alleged theft.

Statistics are among the few indicators of how things are going, but often they don't add up. Washington officials get a different set of figures from those released to the public by U.S. information officials.

American officials decline to comment on this question. Newsmen and U.S. information officials came to another impasse Friday when a U.S. spokesman reported that 365 Communist guerrillas were killed during the past week.

The figure, he said, included 130 Viet Cong killed in a clash Tuesday near the Cambodian frontier. The same operation cost government forces 15 killed, including a U.S. Army officer, and 85 wounded.

Newsmen challenged the figure of 130 enemy dead.

The Vietnamese Defense Ministry said most of the bodies of the enemy dead had been carried off by surviving guerrillas.

U.S. advisors participating in the fight reported seeing only five or six enemy bodies. When correspondents arrived a few hours after the action ended, they found no enemy dead, although the area was strewn with friendly casualties.

Glenn Being Treated for Concussion

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., spaceman turned politician, underwent treatment for a brain concussion today in a hospital familiar from his astronaut days.

Glenn, who bumped his head on a bathtub in his apartment Feb. 26, was transferred Friday from Columbus, Ohio, to Wilford Hall Hospital on Lackland Air Force Base.

Ohio Candidate

The 42-year-old Ohio senatorial candidate, who quit the U.S. Senate program to go into politics, has been at the hospital several times previously to undergo physicals and tests as an astronaut.

Doctors would not speculate on how long he would be in Wilford Hall. However, Dr. Earl Brannon Jr., chief of orthopedic surgery, said in a news conference:

"We're almost sure he'll be out by April 1."

Glenn, who had planned to re-tire from the Marines March 1, is now scheduled to be mustered out April 1.

Free 26 Nations in Danger Of Economic Strangle

MADISON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says that if the Communists could take over the less developed areas in the world, the Red nations then could hope eventually to strangle the economically advanced free countries.

Rusk spoke Friday night at the 100th anniversary of the founding of the YMCA at the University of Wisconsin. He was picked at an earlier news conference by student groups demanding admission of Communist China to the United Nations and removal of troops from Viet Nam.

He said the admission of Communist China to the UN "would give encouragement to Peiping times." Rusk said, "We seek no assistance in the face of all the mischief satellites. We do not seek to come ambassador to Togo."

Playboy Manual Substitute

Orderly Grievances Against 'Bunnies' Sought by Union

BY NEIL GIDBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Should club girls be fired for wearing crooked ears? No, says the AFL-CIO Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union, union officials quote one girl as saying she was squeezed into a "zipper" by the club's Bunnies.

Neither, says the union, should she be bounced from her job if she doesn't live up to the code of the Playboy Clubs re-matching ears, clean and fluffy cottontail.

The union, in a national organizing campaign in behalf of the pretty night club waitresses, wants to substitute orderly grievance procedure for the "Playboy Club Bunny Manual."

Legal Action

The union officials announced at a press conference that they are prepared to take legal action under the National Labor Relations Act to protect the rights of the approximately 600 Bunnies who work at Playboy Clubs in New York, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, New Orleans, Phoenix, Miami and Manila.

The union wants to institute shop stewards in place of "Bunny mothers," who now regulate the working conditions of the waitresses in the chain of nightclubs founded by Playboy Magazine Publisher Hugh Hefner.

In gathering evidence to make a federal case out of the work-ing conditions of the Bunnies, union officials quote one girl as saying she was squeezed into a "zipper" by the club's Bunnies.

Council Will Fight Consumer Frauds, Pitches

Atty. Gen. Thompson Tells of Formation Of Grass Roots Unit

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. George Thompson has announced the formation of an Attorney General's Advisory Council on Consumer Frauds to help protect consumers against being defrauded by pitchmen.

The primary purpose of the council will be a grass roots approach to the problem of consumers being defrauded by fast-talking pitchmen who strike one community after another and leave the various jurisdictions before appropriate action can be taken.

Another purpose will be to educate consumers to the benefits of dealing with local merchants and by cooperating with the State Department of Agriculture, local Chambers of Commerce, Better Business Bureaus and local law enforcement agencies.

Thompson said the new citizens' council will be organized on a county basis to conform with existing law enforcement organization in the state. The first unit was organized in Milwaukee County, and formation of other county units is expected soon.

Thompson asked persons interested in forming a county unit to contact his office. After all county units have been formed, permanent state officers will be elected at a meeting in Madison.

Thompson said 13 other states are organizing consumer fraud units.

Oneida Housing Applications to be Filed Wednesday

ONEIDA—Applications from Oneida Indian tribal members for a federal mutual help housing program will be taken at a special meeting Wednesday.

The session, called by the Oneida Housing Authority, will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the parish hall of Holy Apostles Episcopal Church here.

Jim Schandore, leasing officer with the Great Lakes Indian Agency, Ashland, will attend the meeting to supervise filing of applications and answer questions. Final deadline for sign-up is April 13.

The mutual help program under the supervision of the Public Housing Administration will consist of 46 residences. The plan is that the Indians will help build and maintain the homes and eventually own them.

The Indians will construct homes under the direction of skilled construction supervisors. It is expected each family will acquire at least a 20 per cent equity in a home as a result of work put into it. The Indians will make monthly payments of the balance.

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Tough old Sgt. Alvin York has fought off another illness and gone back to his farm home in Pall Mall, Tenn.

The 76-year-old hero of World War I entered the Jamestown hospital two weeks ago, suffering from dehydration and a semicoma. It was the eighth time he has been in the hospital in 18 months.

Goldwater to End Primary Drive In New Hampshire

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, claiming that the victor's share of New Hampshire votes already is in his column, winds up today his campaign for the nation's first presidential primary of 1964.

The Arizona Republican said he expects to capture about 40 per cent of the votes in next Tuesday's balloting. He said some of his advisers are even more optimistic.

Goldwater scoffed at the campaign style of his chief New Hampshire rival, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who favors handshaking tours of main streets and shopping centers.

Goldwater said that approach is fine in general elections but not primary campaigns. He said he isn't interested in Democrats right now.

Nevertheless, he spent more than an hour Friday strolling the streets of Laconia to shake hands and chat with voters.

At one point, he even shook the paw of a passerby's dog.

In Concord, Goldwater renewed his dispute with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and was cheered by more than 250 persons at a gathering of veterans' organizations.

He insisted that long-range missiles are not a dependable substitute for manned bombers.

"I don't feel safe with a man like McNamara who is willing to place so much faith in a weapon that's never been tried," Goldwater said.

Proxmire Asks Added Research for State

'High Time' Wisconsin Got Federal Projects, Senator Asserts at Stevens Point Meeting

Special to the Post-Crescent

STEVENS POINT—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., today demanded more private and state college participation in federal research.

"It is high time for the faculties and students in our state college system and our private colleges to have a far better opportunity to take part in the immense research of the federal government," the senator said in a speech prepared for delivery here.

Proxmire was scheduled to address a federal research conference at Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point. Representatives from the nine Wisconsin State Colleges, 15 private colleges, the University of Wisconsin and Marquette University attended.

Working with Eugene R. McPhee, director of Wisconsin State Colleges, Proxmire arranged for representatives of the six government agencies most responsible for federal research to meet with state and private college leaders here.

Stepped Up

"Once the representatives of our state and private colleges are acquainted with federal research programs and once the federal government knows what Wisconsin smaller colleges have to offer, I think we can count on greatly stepped-up federal research activity in Wisconsin," Proxmire said.

"The federal grants research program is the very opposite of a give-away—there is no subsidy involved here," he said.

"The federal government alone can bear the heavy financial burden of research work in defense. It must do all of the very expensive research work in space. It must do most of the hundreds of millions of dollars of research work in health."

"Greater participation by our state colleges can drive the cost of research down and the quality up. By taking a bigger part in federal research Wisconsin students and faculties will help American defense. Our peace efforts, the health of all Americans and the hard-pressed American taxpayer."

Meal-Fee Plan In Winnebago Before Board

Committee's Study Will Result in Recommendation

OSHKOSH — A study of the meal-fee system at the Winnebago County jail will result in a recommendation to the county board at its April meeting.

The study by the sheriff's and coroner's committees came after it was revealed the sheriffs of Brown and Waukesha counties make a profit of about 20 cents per meal.

Two committee members, Amos Page, Town of Menasha, and Duane Sweet, Neenah, will travel to Waukesha County to study that county's system. The two committee members submitted reports on the Manitowoc, Outagamie and Brown county set-ups to the committee Friday afternoon.

The Winnebago County sheriff is presently paid 60 cents per meal served to confined prisoners and $2.40 per day for Huber law prisoners.

Receives Copy

Committee Chairman E. G. Steinhilber said he had introduced a copy of a resolution received in Waukesha County, reducing the amount paid the sheriff from 60 to 40 cents per meal. There was no explanation as to whether the resolution was passed or as to who paid the salaries for the jail help, however. In Winnebago County the sheriff pays for his own jail employees.

The committee disallowed two mileage expense claims by the sheriff for trips made by other department personnel with the sheriff's car. The bills were submitted at the rate of 10 cents per mile, the rate paid to the sheriff, instead of 8 cents per mile, the rate paid other department personnel. The bills were ordered resubmitted at the 8-cent per mile rate.

Overcharged, Inmate Claims

Oshkosh Man Seeking $45 From Winnebago County

OSHKOSH — A former Huber Law prisoner is claiming he was illegally charged for room at the Winnebago County jail while he was a prisoner in 1963.

Robert L. Duwe, 1519 Harrison St., Oshkosh, in a letter to the Winnebago County Board's sheriff and coroner committee, claimed he has $45.60 coming for the period from May 17 to July 31, 1963, when he was in the county jail.

He said he was overcharged 60 cents a day according to a ruling by a Milwaukee judge that that city could not charge jail maintenance expenses to Huber law prisoners but could only charge for meals.

Winnebago County Huber law prisoners are charged $2.40 a day while the sheriff is reimbursed at the rate of $1.80 a day for meals of confined prisoners. The extra 60-cents for Huber prisoners is considered to be for extra food given them to eat during rest periods at work.

Beat-Up Old Pot Lids Can Make New Game of Handball

BY CAPPY DICK
If you can find a couple of beat-up old pot lids that nobody wants and a soft or hard rubber ball two and half or three inches in diameter, you have the equipment needed for pot-lid handball. The major difference between this handball game and the one so many city firemen enjoy playing is that in my version of the game you hit the ball with a pot lid instead of your hand. Also, for pot-lid handball you are welcome to make up your own rules.

As a target, indicate a space four feet wide and five feet long on the basement wall or an outside wall where there are no windows that can be damaged. This is the target area in which the ball must land in order to score for you. The player who lands the ball within the target area the most times in 10 minutes of play wins the game. The pot lids may have handles on top, or handles that project from the side.

Pageant Set June 18-20 At Oshkosh

Miss Wisconsin To be Selected In Jaycee Event

OSHKOSH — Dates for the Miss Wisconsin Pageant have been set for June 18 to 20 at the Oshkosh High School-Civic Auditorium, Jack Erkkila, state director of the pageant, said Friday.

The event will be sponsored again by the Oshkosh Junior Chamber of Commerce which conducted last year's highly successful pageant. Erkkila was director of that pageant and is continuing in that office.

This year's pageant will extend over three days instead of two days as last year. Actually, Erkkila said, the entire event will be a five-day undertaking with the contestants arriving in Oshkosh on June 16 to take part in a full week of interviews, and special events during which they will meet with the judges both formally and informally.

Largest Yet

The 1964 pageant will be the largest yet produced, with at least 25 localities represented. This will surpass the record-breaking participation of 23 in the 1963 pageant.

Local cities whose winners will come to Oshkosh in June to represent their areas already are underway with their own pageants. Five contestants already have been chosen. All local pageants must be completed by June 1.

The 1963 pageant, first one undertaken by the Oshkosh Junior Chamber of Commerce, gained national recognition as one of the top-ranking and most outstanding state pageants in the country. The Wisconsin group has been in constant touch with Miss America headquarters in Atlantic City, N. J., and has met with national representatives during the planning sessions.

Arrangements now are being worked out to enlist a nationally known personality to serve as master of ceremonies at the June pageant in Oshkosh.

The 1963 Miss Wisconsin winner is Barbara Bonville, representing the north shore of Milwaukee. She has taken part in dozens of important events as Wisconsin's representative. She will be in Oshkosh in June to present the crown to the new Miss Wisconsin chosen then.

10 Clinics Will Offer Vaccine To All for 25 Cents Per Dose

Mass immunization of Outagamie County residents will take place at 10 clinics throughout the area Sunday where the anti-polio Sabin oral vaccine will be available for every man, woman and child.

The cost of the oral vaccine will be 25 cents per dose, but no one will be turned away, according to Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, general chairman of the program being sponsored by the Outagamie County Medical Society.

It has been estimated nearly 500 doctors, nurses, pharmacists and other volunteers will be on hand from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the clinics as they process an estimated 1,000 persons per hour.

Graph Will Measure Water Level, Pressure In Hilbert Tower

Recorder Requested by Firm Which Is Installing Fire System

HILBERT — Purchase of an automatic water level recorder to be installed in the water tower, was approved Thursday by the village board.

Calumet Cheese Co., the largest industry in the village, requested the recorder for insurance purposes.

Herman Greve, representing the company, reported that an automatic fire sprinkling system was being installed and the recorder was needed to measure and inspect water pressure.

A graph will be installed in the village hall to keep a record of the pressure.

Greenville Residents Object to Restrictions Placed on Height of Structures Near New Facility

BY DICK LYNEIS

Progress and the past clashed over aviation regulations this morning when the Outagamie County Airport committee met at the courthouse.

Town of Greenville Chairman Rudolph Spreeman, Greenville residents, and an Appleton attorney appeared at the meeting to protest provisions of an ordinance regulating the height of structures and trees and the use of property in the vicinity of the new Outagamie County Airport.

The ordinance states "a hazardous or dangerous structure, object or use of land which obstructs the flight of aircraft in landing or taking off, or an airport or is otherwise hazardous to such landing or taking off."

To Board Monday

The ordinance, which will be presented to the county board Monday by the airport committee, specifies restrictions on any of these in an area extending one-half mile from the nearest airport boundary.

If a structure or tree is to go in this zone in the future, the owner must apply in writing for a permit to the airport manager who would act as building inspector.

Renk pointed to a topographical map of the area which shows almost exactly how far above sea level each landmark's property is.

The map, divided into zones, indicates, for example, the maximum height for one zone is 1,050 feet above sea level. If the person's property is 950 feet above sea level, he could erect a structure, plant a tree, or allow existing structures or trees to be up 100 feet.

Spreeman said this was "confusing and since it can't be explained understandably by the airport committee, how can the county board vote intelligently on it Monday?"

Up to Individual

Renk said although it may be an inconvenience to the public, the State Aeronautics Commission has set the law up in this manner and it's up to the individual to determine just exactly what his restrictions are.

Committee chairman Supv. Mark Catlin (Appleton 7th) said if there is a possibility of interference with aviation space clearance, "the landowner must apply to the airport manager-building inspector to see if the proposed structure would interfere with aircraft operation."

Attorney Abraham Sigman, representing Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hoeft, Town of Greenville, objected to some of the provisions and wording in the ordinance.

He attempted to raise a question of the validity of the posting of the notice for hearing on the proposed ordinance. Catlin ruled the question was before the committee since the affidavit of posting indicated compliance with state statutes.

Sigman protested because a copy of the zoning map wasn't let in separate contracts. The final phase will be built under a single contract.

The contract will call for grading of 1.8 miles of roadway, construction of two grade separation bridges at County Trunk 11 and two interchange bridges at County Trunk 11 and County Trunk 11.

The project will be done under a new scheduling system being tried by the highway commission's office in Green Bay. The system, named the "critical path" method, calls for rigid scheduling of various work projects.

Actual construction is expected to begin May 1 with the surveying and grading of a frontage road east of the highway. This road will carry detour traffic from County Trunk F to Main Street in De Pere.

Traffic will be detoured east on Main Street to Eighth Street, then north back to U.S. 41.

No traffic will be permitted on the highway between County Trunk F and the point where U.S. 41 curves just northwest of De Pere.

Only a portion of a complicated interchange schedule to be built west of De Pere will be constructed this year. The first portion of the interchange will handle U.S. 41 and County Trunk G traffic.

Additional construction is scheduled for the future when the U.S. 41 by-pass around Green Bay gets underway. The by-pass will begin at the De Pere interchange and extend north to Suamico.

Iola Caucus Set Tuesday

IOLA—Candidates for three trustees and an assessor will be nominated at the village caucus at 8 p.m. Tuesday at American Legion hall.

Trustees whose terms expire are Ingval Olson, Chester Krause and Roger Voie.

A candidate for village assessor will be nominated to fill the vacancy left by Kenneth Carlson who did not qualify after his election last April. Harry Roe was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Officials serving unexpired terms are Adam Horle, president, Charles D. Hartvig, clerk, Laverne Hoffman, Carl Waller and Herman Gjersten, trustees.

Leland K. Johnson, treasurer, Harold Bestul, supervisor, and Rinard Krause, constable.

Exceptions are structures more than one half-mile from the nearest airport boundary and under the 50-foot maximum height above ground level at the building site.

Jim Renk, an engineer from Town of Greenville Chairman Rudolph Spreeman, Greenville residents, and an Appleton attorney appeared at the meeting to protest provisions of an ordinance regulating the height of structures and trees and the use of property in the vicinity of the new Outagamie County Airport.

Spice Wants Aides to be 'Policemen'

Sheriff Proposes Resolution to Provide Benefits

Supervisors are expected to soon from Sheriff Calvin Spice who wants sheriff's full-time deputies and investigators in his department to be known as policemen.

Spice said he anticipates taking a request to the county courts and administration of justice committee that a resolution be drafted for supervisors and patrolmen which will have county traffic policemen and investigators placed under a special workman's compensation benefit for policemen.

Deputies and investigators presently receive disability benefits under regular workmen's compensation. Spice said that state statutes have a special "hazard duty" compensation plan for policemen and other employees who work in dangerous occupations. Included are all policemen.

In 1962 an Outagamie County traffic patrolman was killed while on patrol and was denied inclusion under the special compensation plan. County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath ruled that the patrolman was not in fact a policeman and could not claim benefits under the statute. The industrial commission upheld Ponath's ruling.

"Life-Size" Leprechauns will be part of the decorations of the St. Rose Catholic School hall, Clintonville, for the annual St. Patrick Day party March 17 sponsored by St. Rose Christian Mother-Aid Society. Mrs. Everett Pierre, left, and Mrs. Louis M. Kort are dressing the leprechauns. (Laib Photo)

Manawa came on strong in the third period to narrow the Pigeons' advantage to one point, 38-37, at quarter's end and pulled out the victory with an 18-point final frame, while limiting Marion to 13 tallies.

The Pigeons' chances for victory were minimized when two starters, including top-notch scorer Ken Frailing, fouled out in the final stanza.

Group Changes Bylaws

Co-op Opposes NFO, Adds Contract Guard

WRIGHTSTOWN — Strong opposition to the National Farmers Organization and a tightening of the board of directors powers were voted by the Fox River Valley Cooperative Creamery here Monday.

Bylaws were changed by a 48-23 vote to prevent the cooperative's board from entering into any bargaining contract without prior authorization by a two-thirds vote from the membership.

Membership also voted to require a two-thirds vote to change or amend the bylaws. Previously, only a simple majority was required.

Bargaining contracts are a tool of the NFO, which is attempting to sign up processing plants and other milk handlers. In many cases the directors of cooperatives are empowered to make contracts.

The NFO, advocating the withholding of products from the market to force higher prices, has been putting on a drive for membership in the area between De Pere and Oshkosh. Opponents believed that about 20 of Fox River's 84 members were affiliated with the NFO.

An anti-NFO campaign, it was learned, was organized about a month ago when several co-op members held a strategy session. The proposed bylaws changes resulted from this meeting.

In the election for director, Ray VanGheem, considered an outspoken critic of the NFO, was elected to fill a vacancy on the board by 40 votes, against 13 for Francis Brux, also allegedly opposed to the NFO, and 13 for Jack Callaway, nominated by alleged NFO member.

Although the NFO was not mentioned in the resolutions, it was the apparent target. Earl Ing presented the two amendments to the bylaws.

"Why two-thirds all of a sudden? Why not majority rule?" asked Bob Ambrosius.

The annual report showed that the cooperative sold milk valued at $1,114,000 last year. The average price to members, included in the super pool premium on base milk, came to $3.54 a hundredweight. Assets were reported at $240,564.28, according to the report of S. A. Patrickus, financial secretary.

Sidewalks at Iola Will be Hearing Topic

Village Board Announces Plans For Additions

IOLA — A public meeting on anticipated sidewalk improvements and additions will be held soon the village board decided this week.

Anticipated areas for sidewalks are both sides of Iola from Johna streets to Summit; north side of Iola Street from Johna to Adams; west side of S. Main Street from Iola to Grove; west side of N. Main Street from Depot to Mill; west side of Adams Street from Iola to Division, and south side of Water Street from Washington to the end of the residential area.

Chester Krause stressed the importance of having a job big enough to attract competitive bidding.

Damage to new sidewalks if a public water system was installed was discussed. Water lines can be installed without extensive damage to sidewalks, and more respect would be shown new sidewalks when moving heavy machinery, the board decided.

The clerk was directed to contact Donn Hogen architect firm from Wisconsin Rapids on plans for a municipal building. Hogen had presented two floor plans suitable for the village's needs at the August board meeting. The village now pays $57.50 a month for a clerk's office and library.

Sheriff Seeks Better Security in County Jail

Property, Insurance Committee Told Outagamie Visiting Room Change Needed

Security measures in Outagamie County jail's prisoner visiting room may be improved, a plan to partition off each existing visiting room to prevent close prisoner-visitor contact was outlined by Sheriff Cai Vin Spice to the public property and insurance committee Thursday.

The committee informally favored the plan, but its final decision will hinge on a study of structural conditions. Action is expected at the March 16 committee session.

Spice's plan called for a steel screen partition to divide the 16 by 18-foot visitor room, providing total segregation of the prisoners from visitors.

The system currently in effect permits prisoners and visitors to mingle freely and in large numbers in the room. This represents a serious threat to jail security and the actual safety of visitors, Spice told the committee.

He explained it is now comparatively easy to smuggle items to prisoners or for them to get things out of the jail. Shakedown inspections have turned up "some pretty vicious things in the possession of the prisoners," Spice said.

At times there are as many as 30 people, prisoners and visitors, in the room at the same time and security control is virtually impossible, he told the committee.

If the partition is built, the move is completed.

$1,500 Sought to Assure Group That Expenses Will be Met

Outagamie County's Fair Association will need another $1,500 from county funds to be reasonably assured of breaking even in 1964.

This will be the recommendation of the agriculture and conservation committee to be presented in a resolution to the county board Monday. The decision was reached by the committee Friday after reviewing an audit report on the association's books presented by Alvin Woehler, county business administrator.

Woehler said that under normal circumstances the association would require an $8,400 county appropriation to its premium division. The traditional appropriation, repeated in November when the 1964 budget was adopted, was $7,500. Aside from the $900 boost recommended for the basic appropriation, two other increases were sought. Mike Burns, fair association president, told the committee the plant maintenance appropriation of the premium division should be increased $400 from $1,200 to $1,600.

Re-Wiring Needed One of the buildings qualifying for county aid under the premium program is in need of re-wiring, Burns said. He told the committee he has been warned it would be dangerous to continue without correcting the hazard.

Another $200 was sought for actual premium payments. This, it was noted, has been the average annual increase in the budget category and was not taken into consideration at budget planning.

Woehler said new audit guidelines must be established before the 1965 fair budget is prepared. These, he said, would have to be the result of agreements between the agriculture committee and the fair association. The guidelines will govern county contributions to the event at Seymour.

Lawrence Gets Old State Maps

100-Year-Old Charts Show Area In Formative Time

A group of century-old maps recently acquired by Lawrence College completes a historical run covering the state and territory of Wisconsin during its formative period, according to Librarian Hastings A. Brubaker.

With the addition of nine original maps and atlases, the Samuel Appleton-Carnegie Library now has maps drawn every four or five years from 1837 to 1888.

The maps show the gradual drawing of county and township lines, record cities that have come and gone, and variations in spelling over the century. Milwaukee is one city enjoying particularly varied spellings.

Green Bay is shown as Ford Howard in early maps, while the town of La Fontaine near Little Chute has disappeared completely.

Maps that have been newly acquired are Bradford's "Iowa, Wisconsin 1838," the Society for the Diffusion of Knowledge of the North America, 1844," Mitchell's "Wisconsin, 1846," Burr's "Wisconsin-Iowa, 1848," Mitchell's "New Map of Wisconsin, 1857," The Royal Illustrated Atlas of Modern Geography, 1862, the sheet on North Central U.S., Johnson's "Wisconsin and Michigan, 1870," Asher and Adams "Wisconsin, 1874," and A. G. Johnson, "Wisconsin, 1878."

The maps were secured from Boothouse Thursday night. William R. MacLay of Neenah was most taken from old atlas named chairman to succeed Keith Mulligan of Oshkosh as secretary; Duane Moore of Oshkosh was re-elected treasurer.

Get Your Polio Vaccine Sunday!

Tomorrow is Sabin Sunday throughout Outagamie County and now the rest is up to you.

The County Medical Society has made arrangements to give doses of oral Sabin vaccine to an estimated 100,000 persons at 10 clinics in the county from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Top medical authorities throughout the country, and the world for that matter, have gone on record that the vaccine represents the No. 1 tool with which to stamp out polio once and for all. The vaccine has no reaction effects and is tasteless.

That is why it is imperative that every man, woman and child (at least two months old) receive the first dose of Sabin vaccine Sunday, and then the followup dose at clinics on Sunday, April 19.

Officials of the County Medical Society have given complete assurance no one will be refused vaccine. If you cannot pay the 25-cent service charge, the Society will absorb the cost. No names or addresses will be asked of anyone, and the lines should move at a rate of 1,000 persons per hour at each clinic.

It may take a little effort and a few minutes, but it will be worth your while to take the entire family to the clinic nearest you and obtain the vaccine. Doctors, nurses and other professional volunteers will be in charge.

Should you live in a community bordering the county, whether it be east, west, north or south, the entire family is also welcome to get the vaccine.

More than 500 persons have given a considerable amount of time and effort preparing for "Operation Sabin."

So, if you want to be immunized against polio Sunday it's up to you.

King Paul of Greece

The circumstances surrounding the death of King Paul of Greece bear a significant resemblance to his own ascension to the throne in 1947. He became king upon the unexpected death of his brother, George II. And his rule began when his tiny, rocky kingdom was the focal point of a diplomatic tug-of-war between Russia and the West.

In 1947 President Truman had proposed all-out Western support to Greece to build the country into a bastion against the tide of totalitarianism in the Middle East. The Greeks were constantly harassed by border raids from Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria and were fighting Communist guerrillas in the northern mountains.

Under King Paul's dynamic young leadership, Greece became a solid democratic country allied with the West. Soon after being crowned, he embarked on a project of repairing the country's war torn roads, and led a volunteer corps of workmen by wielding a pick and shovel himself.

It is significant to note that there was not a drop of Greek blood in King Paul's veins. He was of Danish, German and Russian descent. But he reminded his countrymen that his family's motto was "my strength is the love of my people," and he declared that his actions would speak louder than his words.

The new Greek king, Constantine, now succeeds to the throne in the wake of sudden death. He inherits no Greek blood from his late father or his mother, who is of German and British descent. And he will be installed as monarch at a time when Greece again is a trouble spot in East-West relations because of Cyprus. We can only hope that the new ruler will be as successful as his father in surmounting Greece's present difficulties and will become as staunch an ally of the West.

Tokenism

The arrogant and public demand by Milwaukee Negroes, led by Assemblyman Isaac Coggs, that Governor Reynolds appoint a Negro to a Milwaukee County judgeship or lose the support of Negro voters was obviously the wrong way to play politics. Coggs lost sympathy for the Negroes with the demand. He put the governor in the most unfortunate role of being damned whichever way he turns and whomever he appoints.

But in the matter of practical politics, Coggs' major mistake was that the demand was crude—and public.

The example from Washington unfortunately is that appointments, even to the judicial bench, are given as rewards for services rendered, for future promises or to bolster various ethnic and national groups. The appointment of David Rabinovitz was clearly because he had been an early supporter of President Kennedy and could be counted on to encourage the labor vote for the Democrats. The appointment of John Gronowski had much to do with his Polish name. Carl Rowan's appointment as head of the United States Information Agency was certainly in part because he was a Negro. All the way down the line, even involving city commissions, there is often care to be sure that Catholics and Protestants are equally divided. There can be some justification for such ratios if all segments of the population are to have their point of view represented. But too often the major concern is the political ramifications.

Coggs and his group were actually demanding the tokenism which many responsible Negroes are protesting. As long as individuals are singled out for appointment because of their race or national background prejudices will continue to be in control. It is no aid to the Negro race to try to perpetuate such a system.

Louisiana Now a Two-Party State

A Democrat was elected governor of Louisiana, which is not too surprising. But his opponent garnered more votes than any Republican ever has in Louisiana history, and that has portents for the future. Louisiana is now definitely a two-party state.

The defeated candidate, a converted Democrat, was Charlton Lyons. He campaigned on stern conservative principles. His success carried two Republicans from his home parish into the legislature.

The winner was John McKeithen, a country lawyer of the traditional Louisiana political mold and a protege of the late Gov. Earl Long. In the past, no Democrat had ever bothered to take the stump in the final election against a Republican. But McKeithen said Lyons' campaign was "one of the best financed and best organized I've ever seen."

In fact McKeithen said the Democrats may have to consider changes in their traditional primary system if they are to stave off the rising Republican strength in Louisiana. In the present system a number of Democratic candidates run against each other in the primary, then the two winners face each other in a run-off election. Previously that was tantamount to election.

But as McKeithen points out now, "While we've been running against each other the Republicans have been standing on the sidelines and clapping their hands."

Louisiana traditionally has been one of the most solid of the solid southern Democratic states. The recent election there may also have portents in other southern states.

Wanton Murder of Chilton Soldier

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for March 10, 1864.

(Reprinted from the Chilton Times)

It is with feelings of deepest regret that we announce that John Marygold, Esq., of this village (Chilton) was murdered at the St. Cloud Hotel, Memphis, last month. The following particulars of the affair we find in the Memphis Bulletin of the 28th ult.:

"The story about the soldier who was shot at the St. Cloud Hotel has another version which differs materially from the one which has been floating about for the past day or two. The unfortunate young man who lost his life so needlessly was John Marygold, a member of the 4th Wisconsin Volunteers.

"He was born of good family, and has always borne a character of the highest respectability. He occupied the post of commissary sergeant in his regiment and was ever deemed honest and trustworthy.

"He heard a fuss at the St. Cloud about a pocketbook, and went to see what was the matter. He was ordered to stand back by the excited loser of the purse, and kicked. He turned and walked off when he was shot by the person who was robbed.

"Marygold was not armed, and was perfectly sober when the fatal deed transpired. The shot took effect in his back, killing him almost instantly. He fell upon his face and never spoke afterward.

"The murderer was not a guard, and never gave the order to halt. The latter is under arrest and will doubtless be made to expiate his crime by a heavy punishment."

The deceased was a native of England who came to this country about 12 years ago, and has resided most of the time in Chilton. At the breaking out of the rebellion he enlisted in Capt. Hobart's company but was afterwards detailed to act as commissary clerk. He was well known throughout this and adjoining counties and was universally loved and respected.

President Roosevelt served notice that day that the U.S. would not be passive and silent about the persecution of religion and religious groups in lands where democracy had been snuffed out. He made the statement while addressing a joint session of Congress in commemoration of the first session 150 years previously.

Stanley Warner was elected president of the Gateway chapter of the National Aeronautic Association at its meeting in Clintonville. Other officers named were Fred Gansen, vice president, Donald Olen, secretary, and Max Stieg, secretary. Officers the previous year, when the chapter was organized, included Lloyd Bauer, president, Reuben Lendev, vice president, Arthur Rice, secretary, and Fred Gansen, treasurer.

Major League bowling champions in Kaukauna were members of the Hakbarth Tavern team: Karl Kuchelmeister, Fred Hakbarth, Jack Burton, Leo King and Floyd Driessen. Burton set the high individual mark for the season with a 713 series.

Lloyd Lathrop was chosen for the lead role in the comedy "Second Fiddle" at Washington High School, New London. Others in the cast were Ruth Savall, Audrey Dean, Alice Kusserow, Polly Harquist, Patricia Chegwin, Alan Fonstad, Jane Huebner and Robert Hutchison.

James Beck, Appleton High School senior, won the district oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion. Beck's winning speech was "The Constitution—Long May it Live." Other area students in the competition were Beverly Williams, Kimberly, and Clayton Alsteen, Lena. Emil Gehrke, New London, was the Legion's state chairman for the contest.

Miss Ruth Landis, Appleton student at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, was named to the dean's honor list for scholastic achievement.

Preparing for student cheering activities at the district basketball championship game were Manawa High cheerleaders Nancy Kersten, Mary Klapper, Judy Kelley and Susie Sellin and Pep Club president Gloria Hanschel.

Revolt in French Quebec Poses Crisis for Canadian Government

BY RICHARD F. NEWCOMB

Canada is coming to grips with one of its most vexing problems — unrest among French Canadians in the Province of Quebec.

The strife goes all the way back to rival French and English explorations and settlements in the 16th and 17th centuries. It has been a rocky road ever since, but a peace of sorts settled over the vast land with the founding of modern Canada under the British North America Act of 1867. That act became the constitution of Canada, but Quebec has never been satisfied with the arrangement.

Quebec, second most populous of Canada's ten provinces (after Ontario), is virtually a nation within a nation. French is the language of the province's 5.5 million people, and the culture is strongly French. The religion is Roman Catholicism.

The irritation arises from the fact that federal rule, from the national capital in Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario, remains a strong British flavor. English is the language in Ontario, and Protestantism is the predominant religion.

WANT ACTION NOW

During the first century of confederation, now drawing to a close, the French Canadians in Quebec have felt a growing impatience over unsettled government. Now they mean to have action.

In the past year, terrorism has broken out in the form of dynamite bombings. Armories in Quebec have been looted of large quantities of arms, and hotheads speak of seceding from Canada. There is even talk that Queen Elizabeth II would not be safe there when she visits Canada in October.

Prime Minister Lester Pearson, a Nobel Peace Prize winner and former president of the United Nations General Assembly, has termed the discontent in Quebec one of Canada's most pressing problems. A Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism has been appointed, but it is not expected to report until 1966.

In the meantime, the first of a series of federal-provincial conferences will open March 31 in the city of Quebec.

What do the French want? In the first place, responsible leaders do NOT want secession from Canada. Jean Lesage, premier of Quebec and a member of Pearson's own Liberal party, believes separation would be a disaster. He wants a new federal constitution, granting more autonomy to Quebec and a larger share of national revenues. The first conference will discuss the money question.

The views of Lesage's government are summed up in a recent statement by the premier:

"We ask to have returned to the province all the rights granted us when, as one of the two founding races of Canada, we agreed to enter confederation. We want to get out of all the joint federal-provincial programs under which Ottawa spends money on provincial projects. Let Ottawa give us the equivalent in money and let us spend it as we see fit."

Specifically, the French want:

1. Autonomy except in foreign affairs, defense and currency.

2. Bilingual federal civil service at Ottawa, with more senior jobs for French Canadians.

3. Greater share of national revenues and authority to spend it as Quebec wishes.

LANGUAGE MAJOR PROBLEM

Language causes a great deal of the trouble. Both English and French are official languages in Canada, but in fact the government at Ottawa functions in English. The French Canadians assert that British capital and management control Quebec's industrial development, and French-speaking employees are discriminated against in big business. To counteract this feeling, scores of English executives in Quebec are now studying French, and promising young Frenchmen are shooting up the executive ladder.

Separation fever has perhaps subsided slightly in recent months, except for the terrorists, whom no one in responsible position condones. At one point last year Marcel Chaput, head of the Republican party, went on a hunger strike to attract attention to the separatists and raise funds for his organization. His party then had about 5,000 members, but Chaput has since resigned and membership is declining.

However, there is no question that French Canadians consider themselves different from other Canadians.

And as far as they are concerned it's "Vive la difference."

Beatles Didn't Follow Mob So the Mob Followed Them

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Some people seem to think teen-agers are a bunch of "kooks" for their devotion to the Beatles, but do they believe we're any worse than the adult crowds of the past who cheered the gladiator at combat in a Roman arena or the frenzied mob of many Christians who cheered as heretics were burned at the stake?

The adulation shown by adults when our side wins a war, a football game or a championship fight, puts the followers of the Beatles to shame when it comes to all out asininity. Adults set the examples we follow.

The Beatles are four boys from Liverpool who happened to strike it rich because they dared to be different. They didn't follow the mob so the mob followed them. They gave us a few new songs and turned our thoughts away from this war-threatened world we live in, for just a little while. I'm glad they passed our way.

Strawberry Ice

NEW YORK (AP) — The frigid temperature of dry ice, -110 degrees Fahrenheit, makes it valuable for refrigerating perishable foods but that isn't why it is used to keep California strawberries fresh on 3,000-mile trips to the East Coast, says Cardox Division of Chemstron Corp. Chunks of the ice packed into the berry-loaded boxcars vaporize into odorless, nontoxic carbon dioxide gas which inhibits growth of fruit-destroying molds by excluding oxygen necessary for their growth. About $35 worth of dry ice protects a $5,000 shipment of strawberries.

Oil-Eating Animals

NEW YORK (AP) — Believe it or not, oil scientists have found a way to obtain edible proteins and vitamins from certain petroleum compounds. The American Petroleum Institute said the aim of the process is to develop low-cost food supplements for animals.

Bar Role in Judicial Elections Vital but Popularity Poll Faulty

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—The State Bar of Wisconsin has evidently concluded that one of its obligations is to participate more actively in the judicial selection process.

Twice in recent weeks the compulsory membership professional society has polled its members' views on the professional qualifications of candidates for high judicial offices, with declarations of its intent to publish the results for such value as they may have in influencing the appointing power, in one case, and the Wisconsin electorate in the case of the aspirants for election to the State Supreme Court this spring.

It may be that the latter decision to intervene in the state court election was influenced by the controversy in which the bar became involved when it examined critically the nomination to the U. S. District Court at Madison several months ago. Having interjected itself into that fight, perhaps it could not gracefully avoid involvement in the appraisal of the candidates for the state court. In any event, it would appear that a precedent for such evaluation of judicial candidates by the bar has now been established.

THE LIMITATIONS

The response has been good. Obviously lawyers should be better able to assess the competence of judicial candidates than the laity.

Yet there are limitations in this proceeding that will trouble thoughtful men — members of the bar included — and that will probably persuade the bar leaders of the need for further refinement of screening procedures.

There is very little more reason for assuming that a lawyer in Prairie du Chien or Milwaukee is acquainted with another lawyer in Rhinelander than there is to assume that a newspaperman at Madison has any special knowledge about a fellow journeyman in Kenosha or Marinette.

The dangers inherent in a mechanical poll, with only routine biographical data submitted to the 5,000 or more lawyers participating, is illustrated aptly in the response of the member of the Milwaukee County Bar when they were polled for their estimate of the qualifications of three candidates for the state supreme court.

One of the three candidates lives in Superior. The geographical circumstance was obviously related to the fact that so many Milwaukee lawyers responded with a "no opinion" ballot that he was not able to get the required score for a "qualified" finding. The result was publicity, unfortunate but nevertheless cruel and hurtful, that he was found "not qualified" in the headlines based on the incident.

THE NEED

Most persons concerned about public affairs will agree that the participation of the bar in an objective manner in judicial selection is advantageous and perhaps necessary.

But the polling procedure, as now used, is obviously unfair and crude. It has aspects of the popularity contest. A man wearing a widely known name, however irrelevant to judicial responsibilities or professional attainment, has a better chance than the most scholarly lawyer whose activity and reputation have been limited to his own home district.

There is an easy improvement for the process already available. There must be some wandering among lawyers and others why it has not been employed. The bar has always had a committee on judicial selection, although it has been used infrequently. Circulation of the bare biographical data is very nearly useless as a guide in such a poll. All lawyers went to law school. Most of them have families. Most of them have practiced law. What is needed for an intelligent judgment is a method of professional appraisal by an objective and trusted panel of peers.

Writer Wonders About Mayor's Campaign Car

Editor, Post-Crescent:

On Monday, March 3, at 11:50 a.m. when I was meeting my husband for lunch I noticed a Blue Corvair convertible parked at the main entrance to our Post Office on Superior St. The car had a sign on it saying that we should re-elect Clarence Mitchell for Mayor. At 1:05 p.m. the car was still there without any parking ticket on the windshield despite the fact that it was parked right in between two signs saying 5 minute parking between signs.

At 4:05 p.m. when I picked my husband up, the same car was still parked there and still without a parking ticket. I suppose it was not ticketed because of the sign it bore.

This time I stopped to write down the license number of the car and it was a 1963 (with a 64 tab) Wisconsin number G 84-612. Could the Post-Crescent tell us who is this favored citizen who can park most of the day in a five minute parking zone without a parking ticket? I wonder how many tickets our ordinary citizens would have if we tried to pull a stunt like that. I know that if I'm five minutes late getting back to a meter, the ticket is already there and the meter maid has disappeared.

Please don't sign my name or I'll find myself suddenly collecting tickets even though there is time on the meter. Just sign me...

Off-Ticketed Housewife

Editor's Note: The license number is that of Robert Mitchell, the mayor's older son. Police Chief Wolff stated he was positive that if the car was parked there during this entire period it would have collected several tickets.

Startled Policeman Learns 'Time Flies'

MIAMI (AP) — Abe Eisenberg, stopped at a police roadblock, handed an officer a tattered license.

"Expires Jan. 31, 1918," read the startled policeman's "1918?"

"Time flies," sighed Eisenberg. Then he handed over a current license.

"Had me shook up for a minute," admitted the officer.

3-4 (Channel 2) — Meeting in the CBS Golf Classic match are two expert pairs—Julius Boros and George Bayer vs. Dave Ragan and Billy Casper. Duffers will delight in watching some top pros gooting up.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — The Lieutenant has a good, almost documentary hour. Gary Lockwood is Shore Patrol night duty officer. The story is his concern over three cases.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Defenders repeats a Reginald Rose original from last spring. The action takes place one night and the next morning, while a murder jury deliberates. On trial is Arch Johnson. We flash back and forth among the jurors, the police, the accused, the opposing counsels.

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — Saturday Night at the Movies presents a gay 1959 comedy, "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" in which Paul Newman proved himself an adept comic actor. (COLOR)

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The New Phil Silvers Show tries to make a comedy out of an essentially unfunny situation — a boy's embarrassment when forced to date a girl taller than he is.

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — The Hollywood Palace has its usual happy assortment of acts — from chimps to Dean Martin, or vice versa. Martin is the host and lead-off male singer, with Barrie Chase the chief female.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Gunsmoke plays it for lusty laughs and manages to garner a few. This is one of those Hollywood western fight-funnies; whenever the script bogs down the two heroes slug each other a few times.

Jingo Adds His Praise To Movie 'Tom Jones'

Joins Critics Across Nation, Abroad That Here Is Movie of Oscar Variety

BY JINGO

Critics across the country — and in Europe as well — have sung unqualified praise for the rollicking "Tom Jones" film. As much as he hates to do it, Jingo must tag along with the parade.

Of course, being a Johnny-come-lately on this tremendous film isn't a lonely affair. Woodfall Productions and Tony Richardson, the producer-director, received turn-down after turn-down from the "sagacious" Hollywood moguls before United Artists contracted to release the film here for them. The nominations for the Academy awards indicate how wrong the film industry feels the refusals were. The workers in the industry placed "Tom Jones" in the Oscar sweepstakes 10 times.

Jingo feels — sincerely and without qualification — that, with the exception of the three women from the film competing for the same Oscar, every one of the nominations should be a winner.

Critics have said that "Tom Jones" is the "finest movie ever made." Jingo would like to go a step further and say he believes that in many respects it is the first movie really made.

The movie picture is a melding of many arts, skills, talents, techniques and presentations. But it mainly is what its name implies — pictures!

Whole segments of the "Tom Jones" story are told merely with pictures — with tremendously apt musical background, too, of course. Richardson has seen that a motion picture does not have to talk when talk is unnecessary.

Genius at Work

Dialogue would have been an unbearable intrusion into the charming courtship scene between Jones and his lady love and, even though the actors apparently were speaking, Richardson turned off the mikes and produced a wonderful gem of color, motion and heart.

Even many of the usual cinematic scenes have been given added meaning by Richardson's camera. And he not only used new techniques for his film, he made use of practically all of the film techniques ever used—even the mechanical flaws of the early "flickers"—to give his film historic depth.

The settings, details and spirit of the film are worthy of an historian's deepest attention. Richardson truly has recreated the England of Henry Fielding and William Hogarth. In doing so, he has given to our jaded times a new dimension to exuberance.

Excellent Cast

To be perfectly just, of course, Richardson's success also must be credited in a goodly part to his cast—especially Albert Finney and Hugh Griffith.

If Hugh Griffith does not win an Oscar for his epoch-making characterization, the whole Hollywood shebang should be investigated. And that goes for Edith Evans—the reincarnation of Edna Mae Oliver—as well.

The film's Oscar nominations, in addition to Finney, Griffith and Miss Evans, include Richardson for the best director, John Addison for the best scoring, the best screenplay, the best art direction and Miss Evan's competition, the lusty Diane Cilento and Joyce Redman.

Ulcerative Colitis Is Formidable Disorder

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Several years ago I developed a bad case of ulcerative colitis and have been taking prednisone, among other drugs.

It seems to work well, but the side effects concern me — puffy face, adding weight between shoulders and Dr. Molner abdomen, transparency of skin, acne, etc. Can anything be done to minimize these? I hope I am not vain but I'm a young man and social life is important. (A. W.)

Prednisone is one of the steroids. It is effective in many cases. Still, when side effects occur, I know of nothing that will counteract them except reducing or stopping the drug.

Ulcerative colitis is a formidable disorder. "Colitis" of course, is often a general term used for a variety of stomach, aches or bowel disorders. The ulcerative type, however, is truly a disease of the colon, with ulcers which can be found by X-ray and protoscopic examination. It features such symptoms as diarrhea (often bloody), fever, pain, debility.

Its cause is not known. It often affects young and middle-aged adults, and psychological factors are important—it's not always what you eat, but what's eating you! Frustration, feelings of rejection, maladjustments of various types.

Yet about two-thirds of the patients have allergies, usually involving one or more foods. Milk, wheat and eggs are often the offenders. The steroids may have their effect by suppressing the allergic reaction. The full explanation is not known.

Side Effects

When, after continued use of the steroids, the side effects become objectionable, one alternative is to try to find out what foods cause the allergic response.

Hospital complete rest in the case of the patient is necessary to calm the ravages of ulcerative colitis—it is, I repeat, a formidable disorder.

The psychic (or psychological) elements appear to be very important but they do not necessarily require the services of a psychiatrist. The physician should try to probe all the aspects of the patient's environment, behavior, attitudes and sensitivities. With co-operation, the patient may be able to avoid the need for steroids.

I grant, it is easier said than done.

But when the patient understands the reason for investigation, which at first does not seem to have a direct bearing on his ailment, together he and the doctor can sometimes achieve remarkable results.

Asthma Contagious?

Dear Dr. Molner: Is hay fever or asthma contagious? The reason I ask is that my boy friend has hay fever and his nose all ways itches when he gets too warm. He then starts sneezing. In a matter of seconds I do the same. (N. C.)

P. S.: In most cases, we're in close contact when this occurs. No, neither hay fever nor asthma is contagious. In your case it's a curious riddle, but possibly both of you have allergies and in some way they trigger yours. Your sneezing, on the other hand, may be purely psychological.

Use Insulin

Dear Dr. Molner: We have a relative who uses insulin to control her diabetes. We often eat at her house. Can diabetes be transmitted through handling food? She persists in kissing all of us on the mouth, too. We hate to tell her not to kiss us. (B. C. M.)

No, neither food nor kissing, nor anything else but heredity will transmit diabetes from one person to another. I frown on indiscriminate kissing on the mouth, though, because of colds and what-not. Try turning your head a little and kissing her on the cheek—then she'll have to, also.

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "How To Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20c in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters. (Copyright, 1964)

O'Hara Rips Own Indoor Mile Mark

Loyola Senior Runs 3:56.4 in Chicago Daily News Relays

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Amazing Tom O'Hara lowered his own indoor mile record to 3:56.4 Friday night and confidently announced he possibly could have run two seconds faster.

A Chicago Stadium crowd of 18,307—a record turnout for the Chicago Daily News Relays—cheered the frail-looking, 21-year-old Loyola of Chicago senior to his blistering effort.

Three weeks ago the 130-pound O'Hara knocked two seconds off Jim Beatty's indoor mark with a 3:56.5 in the New York AC Games at Madison Square Garden.

Last week in the Knights of Columbus Meet in the Garden he did 3:58.5, setting of an indoor 1,500-meter mark of 4:43.6 en route.

He passed the 1,500 juncture in 3:41.6 Friday night.

Not until just before the race did the red-haired Irish lad know that Jim Irons of the Toronto Olympic Club was in the field primarily to pace him through the first half-mile — and what a job Irons did.

With Irons showing the way, O'Hara swung through the first quarter in 58.1 and hit the half with a sizzling 1:58.3.

Cruised Last 440

Irons dropped back and O'Hara's most feared opponent on the board oval, Jim Grelle of the Los Angeles Track Club, moved up.

Then O'Hara opened up, passing the three-quarters in a remarkable 2:59.8. At this point, Grelle was a beaten man. O'Hara just cruised the final 440 in 56.5.

Grelle, who pushed O'Hara to a 3:59.5 Bankers Mile victory last year in the meet, wound up second — 80 yards behind. And Bill Dodson of Lawrence, Kan., was even lapped.

"I was honest I could have run at least one second faster, and possibly two," said O'Hara, whose last indoor mile of the season will be in Cleveland next Saturday.

tory for the Jays as Sorenson rimmed a long jump shortly before the buzzer for a 35-28 mid-game margin.

Coach Massey's squad returned to the floor at the start of the second half and forced the Indians to play the Jay type of game. OHS failed in keeping up with the Menashans as the Blue-jay patterns continued to work with utmost perfection.

Scores Only 9 Points

Rick Zimmerman rimmed six of his markers in the third stanza as Menasha rolled to a 51-37 edge with eight minutes remaining. OHS managed just because of the terrific pace by nine points in the third stanza. Eight of the nine came from big Bob Wegener under the basket on Wegener assists from Strasser.

The anti-climactic fourth period found the Jays maintaining a 12-16 point edge until reserve Terry Haack boosted it to 18 at 67-49 with 24 seconds to play — on a fast break.

Both coaches cleared their benches with less than two minutes to play in a fitting show of sportsmanship.

Menasha fired at a tremendous 52.9 per cent from the field on 27 of 51. Oshkosh managed a respectable 22 of 50 for a 44 per cent clip. Wood paced OHS with eight of 14 from the floor. Kenney and Zimmerman were the hottest for the Jays with six of 10 and seven of nine, respectively.

Overall fine play from the starting guards, Kenney and Zimmerman, proved to be the big difference in the game.

Wegener led all board sweepers with 16 rebounds as Oshkosh managed to control the boards, 30-26. Strasser picked off eight errant shots while Pawlowski and Steffin mustered eight apiece for Menasha.

Rams' Fullback Gives Up NFL For Dentistry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams football team lost its No. 1 fullback Friday when Ben Wilson announced his retirement to concentrate on his dental school studies.

Coach Harland Svare expressed regret over losing the 225-pound former University of Southern California star.

Svare said he considered Wilson second only to Green Bay's Jim Taylor at fullback in the Western Division of the National Football League.

Wilson has set his sights on a dental career and could not adjust his studies at Southern Cal to permit continuing in football.

the second period. Boyd deadlocked the score, 47-all, 17 seconds later on a drive-in. Neil Weber dropped in a rebound, his first basket of the game, with 2:31 left.

Boyd retaliated with a nifty left-handed drive, and Neenah was again even, 49-49, with 1:51 left.

Ahead to Stay

Thirteen seconds later, Weber took a pass from Hietpas and dunked the ball to put AHS ahead to stay. Hietpas added a free throw with 1:24 left.

Loughrin, Neenah's mighty mite who played a whale of a game, sank a free throw to cut the margin to 52-50 with 32 seconds to go.

Until Schumaker was fouled with 19 seconds left and he sank both pressure free throws. With 13 seconds remaining, Weber duplicated the feat to account for the final margin.

Neenah's highly aggressive zone limited AHS to 17 baskets in 50 shots — for 34 per cent. Neenah hit on 21 of 53 floor tries — for 39.6 per cent.

From the foul line, however, the Rockets sank only eight of 14 (57.1 per cent).

Bock, who entered the game with a 19.2 average, was held to seven points. But he played a tigerish defensive game that separated Neenah from the ball a number of times when the press was on.

Weber was the game's top rebounder.

Rockets Tie It

AHS broke a 7-7 tie to lead 14-8, at the end of the first quarter. The Rockets' ball-hawking began to pay off, and they tied the score, at 14-14, in the first 2 1/2 minutes of the second quarter. The lead saw-sawed until Pat Gendron, who alternated with Schumaker in McKee's spot, converted a steal to make it 20-19.

Neenah then rampaged for 14 points, while holding AHS to two, running up an 11-point lead. The Rockets sank 12 of 16 floor shots in their dazzling exhibition of the second quarter. Loughrin, the pacemaker, hit on five of six.

AHS' furious counter-attack changed the complexion of the game in the third quarter, but the outcome was in doubt until the fading seconds.

Tom Blackburn, Dayton Coach, Dies at 58

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The last University of Dayton basketball team coached by the late Tom Blackburn will finish its season here tonight, as scheduled, against DePaul.

"That's the way Tom would want it," Mrs. Libby Blackburn, told university officials Friday.

Later in the day her husband, who compiled one of the nation's outstanding college basketball coaching records in his 17 seasons at Dayton, died of lung cancer. He was 58.

Funeral services will be held here at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The soft-spoken, popular Blackburn took teams to the National Invitation Tournament 10 times and won the tournament championship in the 10th try, in 1962.

Coaches 352 Wins

Blackburn jumped from high school coaching ranks to the Dayton job and compiled a 352-140 record with his 17 Flyer teams.

Blackburn died at Miami Valley Hospital, where he was admitted last Saturday. It was the fourth time since last September that he had been taken to the hospital.

In September, surgery revealed that he had lung cancer, and tumorous tissue was removed from his left lung. A few weeks later he was out of the hospital, getting his team ready for the 1963-64 season.

Nickel Brothers Pace 55-39 Tourney Win

WESTFIELD — Winneconne thumped Westfield, 55-39, in the sub-regional finals here Friday night to earn the right to take on Waupaca (a 77-69 victor over New London) in the Weyauwega regional championship contest tonight.

Hot outside shooting by Dave Baitinger got the Wolves rolling against Westfield as they soared to an 8-0 advantage before Westfield got on the scoreboard.

The two big Nickel boys, Tom and Jim, proved the difference as they dominated the boards for Winneconne in addition to leading all scorers with 22 and 16 points, respectively.

Westfield, with a big height disadvantage, was forced to gun from the outside which proved unsuccessful for the most part.

Doug Phillips and Tom Roos, paced the losers' scoring with 13 and 10 points, respectively.

Colts Complete Coaching Staff For '64 Season

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts completed their 1964 football coaching staff Friday by naming Bill Arnsparger as a defensive line coach.

Arnsparger resigned as an assistant to Coach Tommy O'Boyle at Tulane University to accept the job with the National Football League club.

Arnsparger, 36, will replace Gino Marchetti, who retired as a player-coach at the end of the 1963 season. The Colts hope Marchetti will reconsider and play another season, but he will not coach again regardless.

The Colts also announced that veteran linebacker Bill Pellington had relinquished his defensive coaching chores but would continue as an active player in 1964.

Bowling Tips

BY DON CARTER AND MARION LADEWIG

It Pays to be Shifty

There are bowlers who will decide on their starting position in the first frame and then fight it out on that line all night.

If lane conditions are different than usual, don't be afraid to move a few boards to the right or left. (And you do check your exact starting point each time, don't you?)

If your ball is curving too much to the left, move your starting point to the left. This, as the diagram shows, will give your ball a longer path to travel and make it more likely that it will be on the right side of the headpin when it hits.

Michigan to Defend Big 10 Track Crown

Badgers Pose Biggest Threat To Wolverines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Today's finish in the 54th Western Conference Track and Field Championship race could be just as snafu as last year's when Iowa and Michigan finished in a belated deadlock for the crown.

Iowa, which figures to finish last in the current Big Ten competition, had the 1963 crown wrapped up for several days, but on the Thursday following the meet the judges—after viewing films—reversed two placings in one of the dashes and Michigan moved in alongside at 43 points each.

Now Wisconsin is the big threat to Michigan—and the experts think the Badgers have a slight edge as they go into the 14-event afternoon program.

Michigan got away to a five-point lead Friday night as the Wolverines picked up second and fifth in the broad jump—only event completed Purdue also got five, as did Michigan State.

Qualifiers were held in eight events Friday night. Michigan placed at least one man in each competition for a total of 13, while Wisconsin placed a dozen but missed out entirely in the 300-yard and half-mile races.

Religious Strife In Viet Nam Hits Watchful Lull

New Government Promotes Feeling Of Tolerance

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A stream of traffic rumbles over a patch of asphalt where a Buddhist monk set fire to his gasoline-soaked robes nine months ago, catapulting Viet Nam's Buddhist crisis into world attention.

The fiery suicides of Thich Quang Duc and the five monks and one nun who followed his example sparked a national crisis that led to a coup d'etat.

U.S. policy in this strife-torn nation was rocked to the core. Highly informed diplomats said Thich Quang Duc's suicide was a major deciding factor in President John F. Kennedy's decision to send Henry Cabot Lodge here as ambassador last August.

Riots Smashed

Huge demonstrations of Buddhists were smashed by club-wielding special police in Neo Diem's desperate bid to suppress revolt.

No so much as a plaque is at the place where Thich Quang Duc burned to death June 11 but the old monk's heart is venerated at Xa Loi Pagoda, the city's main Buddhist center.

The tough-minded monks who set up their headquarters at Xa Loi have split up, returning to the pagodas from which they had assembled last May. Hatreds aroused in the last six months of the Diem regime seem almost forgotten.

Religious Equality

"We believe South Viet Nam's revolutionary government supports complete religious equality, and Buddhists are well satisfied," says a leading Buddhist spokesman. He is Thich Duc Nghiep, one of the leaders of the Buddhist revolt who were jailed in Diem's pagoda raids last official church here since the Buddhist crisis started.

Catholic Fears

Many Roman Catholics feared reprisals after the military coup mix in with them also cooled on Nov. 1, because of hatreds down."

Youth Retracts Hazing Story, Fined $25 for Tripping Pedestrian

A Lawrence College student who told police he was participating in a hazing stunt, but then changed his story, was fined $25 and costs Friday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 where he pleaded guilty to tripping a woman pedestrian Feb. 28.

John L. Stoune, 18, Brokaw Hall, was charged with disorderly conduct after a policeman saw him trip a pedestrian on W. College Avenue. The student told the policeman he was participating in a hazing stunt. Later, while being questioned by a detective, he admitted he intended the hazing stunt as well as the fraternity house which he said he was rushing. Hazing at the college does not begin until later in March.

James E. Haferbecker, 40, 506 W. Atlantic St., was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 to disorderly conduct. He was charged by Appleton police when he harassed a policeman who was making a routine investigation Feb. 28.

The program is an admissions scholarship, guidance and placement test battery designed to provide information and service to colleges, high schools and the student.

Generated during the Diem regime

In November and December, mobs of youths waving the Buddhist flag burned houses belonging to Catholics in coastal towns. The Rev. Patrick J. O'Connor says he knows of no further incidents.

He says: "I believe the new government is trying to be fair"

although I think it may sometimes bend over backwards to be fair to the Buddhists, the Cao Dai, the Hoa Hao and the other non-Christian sects. But I begot back to my normal life. I lieve the government was embarrassed by the anti-Catholic incidents of November and December, and put out the word that such incidents must stop. I think the young Buddhists and the Communists who tried to mix in with them also cooled down."

Work Hard, Retire to Quiet Life, Barber Says

Michael T. Hauser, Appleton, Leaves Tonsorial Trade After 45 Years Service

BY W. R. DOBERSTEIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Start young, stay on your feet, long hours and stick to one trade for 45 years and you'll earn the "quiet life" of retirement.

Michael T. Hauser, Appleton barber who last week completed nearly 45 years as a full-time artisan of tonsorial skills, satisfying means of livelihood for him. One "regular" was a customer for 33 years—from newsboy days to age 51. Others came to him for their hair cuts as much as 32 years.

Famous Fellows

Recalling the Wrightstown days, Hauser said his "lather boy" in 1923 is better known to-day as Judge Donald W. Gleason, Circuit Court, Green Bay. Another who left the barber shop for 18 years, Ira L. Lecy, now director of salesman training for AAL.

Hauser feels it is unfortunate there is a shortage of young barbers. He says a special talent of barbers is an appreciation of the art of conversation. This is hoped to interest in the opinions of others and a knack for conversation and listening—"mostly a barber has to be a better listener than talker."

Retirement Plans

What does a retired barber plan for his time? Hauser and his wife, Loretta, enjoy gardening, short trips to visit friends or family members, card games. In more active years, Saturday night was a "never missed a dance" weekly event at various area dance halls where favorite bands featured polkas and waltzes. Now they and their dancing enthusiast friends have "retired" to sessions of sheephead several times a month.

Hauser also hopes to renew activity in an old favorite—fishing for perch and pike in Lakes Winnebago and Poygan. Since a long-time fishing partner moved away from Appleton, he hasn't pursued the sport much.

"Now I'll have more time for that," he says.

He summarized his liking for long hours outdoors in gardening activity this way: "There nobody can tell me what to do or how to do it."

Michigan Farm

Hauser didn't say it, but there is also a possibility he'll have more time in the sunshine and leisure of being his own boss to recall carefree boyhood days spent with relatives on an Up-Michigan farm in Menominee County—days of "unhurried" hunting, trapping and fishing in the Hausers' 21-acre farm.

The Hausers have two sons and two daughters with one son participating in the family name. That son is the father of 15 of the Hausers' grandchildren — another source of interest and enjoyment for retired barber and his spouse.

Lions May Restock Lake at Blind Camp

Organization Would Build Pond, Improve Fishing for Children

WAUPACA — Visually handicapped children should be re-dominating the fish population. Children usually like to wet a Club Blind Camp near Rosholt line when at a camp, but built with a string of "big fish" stories can't be classed as a very good catch. Bullheads also prey on the growth of other fish in the lake.

At a recent meeting between Lion officials and Dan Folz, district fish manager, preliminary plans were set for restocking the lake this spring with northern pike, large mouth bass, walleyes and perch. To properly stock the lake and build up a good fish population takes several years, Folz said. This is one of the reasons a fish pond was recommended.

The Lions Club has made yearly improvements to the camp on the east shore of Lions Lake. Last year the fish division began work on the 44-acre lake by chemically treating it to kill all the fish.

Occasional Freeze-Out
Folz said the lake is classed as an occasional freeze-out lake, and the highly-resistant bullhead

Dug in Low Area

The pond will be dug in a low area of the camp with an almost natural setting. Throughout the time the camp is used during the summer, weekly stockings will be made in the pond. By having a well-stocked pond, children will have an opportunity to do some successful fishing while the main lake population is being developed, Folz said.

Looking toward the future, Folz said even though the lake is not deep or will not support trout, with the proper management good production can be developed.

A complete plan is being drawn up by Folz and Dick Harris, area supervisor of the Fish Management Department. When completed, another meeting will be set with the Lion officials.

Rockefeller Goes Person to Person To End Campaign

NASHUA, N.H. (AP)—A closing spurt of grass roots, person-to-person campaigning marked the final weekend of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's long drive to win the New Hampshire presidential preference primary.

Rockefeller, accompanied by his wife, concentrated on the population centers of southern New Hampshire for the closing days of the campaign.

The New York governor's strategists are counting on drawing substantial support from this part of the state. The small towns and rural areas of the north are expected to lean toward Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Ice a Factor in Eight Appleton Auto Accidents

Freezing Rain Coats City Roads With Hazardous Surface

Freezing rain and slippery streets were factors in eight city of Appleton traffic accidents between 3 p. m. Friday and early today.

Among the five accidents which caused injury was one today at Prospect and Douglas Streets involving a Winnebago County patrolman whose squad car slid into an opposite lane and collided with a three-quarter ton truck. A passenger in the truck was also injured and both were treated and released from a hospital.

Appleton police said Patrolman Richard J.
